"You may enjoy music, athletics, or be mechanically inclined, and someday you may work in a trade or a profession or in the arts. As important as such activities and occupations can be, they do not define who we are. First and foremost, we are spiritual beings. We are sons [and daughters] of _____ and the seed of _____" (David A. Bednar, "Becoming a Missionary," Ensign or Liahona, Nov. 2005, 47).
